1 Thomas H. Casey, solely in his capacity as Trustee (the “Trustee”) for the bankruptcy estate
2 of Debtor Ice Energy Holdings, Inc. (“Debtor” or “Ice Energy”), complaining of Defendants, hereby 3 alleges as follows:

4 NATURE OF ACTION AND JURISDICTION

5 1. In accordance with Local Bankruptcy Rule 7008-1, this Court has jurisdiction over
6 this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 151, 157(b)(1) and (2), and 1334(a), as well as General Order
7 No. 13-05 of the District Court for the Central District of California, on the basis that this action is a
8 core proceeding as defined by 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b)(2)(A), (B), (C), (K), and (O), and arises in or 9 under the chapter 7 bankruptcy case of In re Ice Energy Holdings Inc., 8:19-bk-14865-MW,
10 currently pending before this Court. The Trustee consents to entry of final orders or judgment by 11 this Court.

12 2. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1409(a).

13 3. By this action, the Trustee seeks damages from certain former directors and officers
14 of the Debtor for breach of their fiduciary duty of care and loyalty in their prepetition management
15 of the Debtor, damages from certain defendants for aiding and abetting those breaches of fiduciary
16 duty, and recharacterization of purported loans provided by certain Defendants at the eleventh hour
17 of the Debtor’s operations, which were in reality equity infusions designed to benefit the Defendants, 18 not the Debtor. Defendants’ misconduct directly precipitated Ice Energy’s declaration of 19 bankruptcy, while the improperly classified loans were designed to provide Defendants with an 20 unfair advantage. In addition, the Trustee objects to the proofs of claim filed by the Defendants in 21 the Debtor’s bankruptcy case and seeks disallowance of such claims, or alternatively equitable 22 subordination of those claims, as well as avoidance of preferential transfers to certain Defendants.

23 4. As explained in further detail below, the former officers and directors of Ice Energy
24 deliberately—or at best, recklessly—mismanaged Ice Energy’s affairs, including its valuable
25 business relationship with Ice Bear, SPV #1, LLC (“Ice Bear SPV”) and, Ice Bear SPV’s parent
26 company, ACP Thule Investments, LLC (“ACP”) (Ice Bear SPV and ACP, collectively, “Ice Bear”),
27 choosing to elevate their own personal interests above those of Ice Energy and its creditors
28 (including Ice Bear). Among other things, the Trustee’s investigation into the Debtor’s prepetition

1 affairs has revealed that the Defendants: (i) failed to take advantage, without justification, of offered
2 funding that would have prevented the bankruptcy filing and preserved assets of the Debtor's estate;
3 (ii) caused Debtor funds to be misappropriated, such as obtaining funds to pay vendors but failing to 4 make payments to such vendors; (iii) misrepresented the liabilities and financial state of Ice Energy
5 to its board of directors; (iv) failed to maintain appropriate insurance coverage needed to protect Ice
6 Energy's assets; (v) misrepresented the assets owned by the Debtor; (vi) failed to implement proper 7 internal controls and procedures to avoid those and other misappropriations, defaults, violations, and 8 misrepresentations; (vii) failed in general to exercise due care in overseeing the Debtor's business
9 and managing risks, ultimately causing the bankruptcy filing; (viii) pursued self-interested
10 transactions and elevated the director and officers' own personal interests above those of Ice Energy
11 and its other stakeholders, including through the making and facilitating of insider disguised equity
12 contributions; and (ix) caused Ice Energy to schedule questionable claims in the Bankruptcy Case, 13 including alleged unsecured claims by Collins, Zizza, and others. The Debtor now faces tens of 14 millions of dollars in liabilities, including over $20 million owed to Ice Bear alone.

15 5. Further, the former officers and directors of Ice Energy caused last-minute transfers
16 of over $1 million made by certain current or former officers or directors of Ice Energy (or their 17 affiliates) to Ice Energy in an effort to unfairly grant themselves priority secured status, which 18 caused significant damage to Ice Energy and its creditors. Claims for this conduct include
19 recharacterization of the insider "loans" as equity and equitable subordination of the purported
20 secured claims. The investors filed all-asset financing statements attempting to perfect their alleged 21 security interests just one day before the petition date (thus avoidable as a preference if the loans
22 were truly loans). These eleventh-hour transfers, designed to unfairly afford equity holders priority
23 status rather than reflecting legitimate loans, should be recharacterized as equity, and such claims
24 should be disallowed in their entirety.

25 PARTIES

26 6. The Trustee brings this action solely in his capacity as chapter 7 trustee for the 27 Debtor's estate.

22 Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to allege their true names and capacities when ascertained.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND ALLEGATIONS

A. Prepetition Management of the Debtor

25 21. Prior to its bankruptcy filing, Ice Energy operated as an energy storage company
26 serving utility companies in California, manufacturing, installing, and maintaining specialized 27 thermal energy storage units (“Ice Bear Units”). Ice Energy created the Ice Bear System, which was 28

1 designed to freeze water at night to take advantage of lower electricity rates, and then use the ice for 2 space cooling during the day.

3 22. Ice Energy managed various programs pursuant to which it provided Ice Bear Units
4 to customers, including Southern California Edison (“SCE,” and such program the “SCE Program”).
5 In connection with the SCE Program, Ice Energy entered into a Master Goods and Services
6 Agreement with Ice Bear, pursuant to which Ice Energy agreed to manufacture, install, and deliver
7 all goods and services that Ice Bear required to perform under various energy service agreements
8 between it and SCE; including, but not limited to, customer acquisition, manufacturing, and 9 installation of the Ice Bear Units, and post-installation inspections, maintenance, and repairs.

10 23. At all times relevant, each of the Directors and/or Officers of the Debtor owed
11 fiduciary duties of care and loyalty to the Debtor and owed a duty not to engage in self-dealing 12 conduct that could harm the Debtor.

13 24. Various acts and omissions by the Directors and/or Officers give rise to claims for 14 breach of fiduciary duties, including:

- 15 a. Failing to take advantage, without justification, of available funding that 16 would have prevented the bankruptcy filing and preserved assets of the Estate.
- 17 b. Causing funds to be misappropriated.
- 18 c. Misrepresenting the liabilities and financial state of the company to the Board
19 of Director.
- 20 d. Reckless breaches of confidentiality agreements with ACP, exposing the 21 Debtor to claims for damages. This included Collins' sharing of a version of a 22 confidential term sheet with Nations Interbanc.
- 23 e. Apparent failure to maintain appropriate insurance coverage needed to protect 24 the company's assets, including as specifically required in the Debtor's
25 agreements with ACP.
- 26 f. Misrepresentation of assets owned on the statements and schedules Form 206
27 filing, including the asserted ownership of certain critical manufacturing molds that were subsequently confirmed to not actually be owned by the Debtor.

28

- g. Failure to implement proper internal controls and procedures to avoid those and other misappropriations, defaults, violations, and misrepresentations.
- h. Overall failure to exercise due care in overseeing the business and managing risks, ultimately causing the bankruptcy filing.
- i. Pursuing self-interested transactions and elevating their own personal interests above those of the Debtor and its other stakeholders, including through the making and facilitating of the insider disguised equity contributions discussed further below, and through plans to otherwise improperly favor equity. On information and belief, this specifically included, but was not limited to Collins (with others) devising a scheme to acquire the Debtor's assets for their own benefit, at the expense of the Debtor and its creditors. After mismanaging the Debtor's business and damaging its valuable relationship with ACP, Collins (with others) then sought to acquire the Debtor's assets for themselves at a significant discount. Collins (and others) have admitted to key details of this scheme, distributing what is styled as an "Information Memorandum" that acknowledged the bankruptcy filing was a "direct result" of their desire to shed ACP's contract and opining that "the client pipeline could be targeted once the Company exits bankruptcy proceedings."
- j. Causing the Debtor to schedule questionable claims, including alleged unsecured claims by Collins.
- k. Circumventing the Trustee and engaging in their own efforts to market the Debtor's assets, including violating the automatic stay by appropriating the Debtor's intellectual property.
- l. Attempting to organize a bid that could only result in a failed attempt at a sale in violation of section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq., because it would not be a good-faith, arms' length transaction, but rather an improper attempt by insiders to imperil the Debtor's business for certain former officers and directors' own personal gain.

25. These acts caused the Debtor substantial damages, ultimately leading to its bankruptcy filing and compromising the bankruptcy process.

B. UCC-1 Financing Statements Recorded Immediately Prepetition

26. On December 16, 2019, one day before the Debtor filed for bankruptcy, the following UCC-1 Financing Statements were recorded against the Debtor with the California Secretary of State (collectively, the “Insider UCC-1s”):

Alleged Secured Party	Filing No.	Collateral
David Heatley	19-7752285400	All assets of the Debtor
Joseph Draper	19-7752285268	All assets of the Debtor
David Zezza	19-7752285884	All assets of the Debtor
Minakami Trust, on information and belief related to Defendant Minakami LLC's loan	19-7752285521	All assets of the Debtor
Voyager Ocean Limited	19-7752285763	All assets of the Debtor

27. On information and belief, each of the Insider UCC-1s were filed by or on behalf of an insider of the Debtor.

C. The Debtor's Bankruptcy Case and Defendants' Proofs of Claim

28. On December 17, 2019, the Debtor commenced this bankruptcy case by the filing of a voluntary petition under chapter 7 of Title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”). The Debtor’s Petition and schedules were signed by Defendant Collins on behalf of the Debtor.

29. Thomas H. Casey was thereafter duly appointed as chapter 7 trustee, in which capacity he continues to serve.

30. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Collins filed Proof of Claim No. 62 in the Debtor's bankruptcy case, asserting a general unsecured claim in the amount of "at least" $53,217.81.

31. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Heatley filed Proof of Claim No. 63 in the Debtor's bankruptcy case, asserting a claim of $492,153.12, allegedly comprised of a secured claim in the amount of $250,000 and an unsecured claim for the balance of $242,153.12.

1 32. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Zezza filed Proof of Claim No. 64 in the Debtor's
2 bankruptcy case, asserting a claim of "at least" $2,569,171.87, allegedly comprised of a secured
3 claim in the amount of $375,000 and an unsecured claim for the balance of approximately 4 $2,194,171.87.

5 33. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Carroll filed Proof of Claim No. 65 in the Debtor's
6 bankruptcy case, asserting a general unsecured claim in the amount of "at least" $3,101,533.78.

7 34. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Draper filed Proof of Claim No. 66 in the Debtor's
8 bankruptcy case, asserting a claim of $9,250,381.00, allegedly comprised of a secured claim in the 9 amount of $140,000 and an unsecured claim for the balance of $9,110,381.

10 35. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Minakami LLC filed Proof of Claim No. 68 in the 11 Debtor's bankruptcy case, asserting a claim of "at least" $300,000. Minakami LLC alleges that the 12 claim is secured in the total amount of $300,000.

13 36. On July 10, 2020, Defendant Voyager Ocean Limited filed Proof of Claim No. 73 in 14 the Debtor's bankruptcy case, asserting a general unsecured claim in the amount of "at least"
15 $520,958.90.

16 37. Furthermore, the Debtor's schedules reflect the following transfers to Defendants
17 within the one-year period preceding the Debtor's bankruptcy filing (collectively, the "Insider 18 Transfers"):

Transfer Recipient	Date	Amount
Joseph Draper	12/2018-7/2019	$220,042.90
James Kelly	12/2018-6/2019	$83,667
Francis Carroll	12/2018-7/2019	$120,936.37
David Zezza	12/2018-4/2019	$56,735.36

23 38. On information and belief, Draper, Kelly, Carroll, and Zezza qualify as "insiders" of 24 the Debtor as that term is used in Bankruptcy Code section 101.

25 39. On information and belief, each of the transfers reflected in paragraph 37, supra, were 26 made by the Debtor on account of an antecedent debt.

1 D. The Breaches of Fiduciary Duty by the Officers and Directors

2 40. As Officers of the Debtor, Zezza, Christians, and Collins owed fiduciary duties to the 3 Debtor, including the duty of loyalty and care.

4 41. Among other things, on information and belief the Officers failed to take advantage
5 of a $1,000,000 loan offered in December 2019 because the Officers wanted to accommodate old
6 equity holders. This would have provided the Debtor with bridge financing to continue operations
7 while longer term equity was sourced.

8 42. The books and records reflect that ACP provided monies specifically to pay vendors,
9 but those monies were misappropriated and the vendors not paid. As but two examples, on 10 information and belief, ACP provided monies to the Debtor to pay Royal Wholesale Electric and 11 Trevi Communications, but both of those vendors claim never to have been paid.

12 43. On information and belief, the Officers misled the Board of Directors with respect to 13 the liabilities and financial state of Ice Energy. For example, the September 17, 2019 Board Update
14 contained a slide, which misrepresented and understated the cost of the SCE Program as being $13.2 15 million (with $6.7 million of funding required by existing or new investors) when the actual cost was 16 between $20 to $30 million and the potential liability to investors to complete the program were 17 between $10 million and $20 million.

18 44. On information and belief, Collins provided a version of a confidential term sheet to 19 Nations Interbanc, which was a breach of a confidentiality agreement with ACP.

20 45. The Officers failed to implement proper controls and procedures to avoid the above
21 misrepresentations, defaults and violations and failed to exercise due care in overseeing the business
22 and managing risks, which failures led to the Debtor's bankruptcy filing.

23 46. On information and belief, the Officers pursued self-interested transactions, thus 24 elevating their own interests above those of the Debtor. Those self-interested transactions included
25 at least the following:

26 a. Making and facilitating disguised equity contributions as loans. Several 27 investors purported to make "loans" to the Debtor at the eleventh hour and 28 then purported to perfect their security interests the day before the bankruptcy

1 filing. These last minute transfers were designed to afford equity holders
2 priority status rather than reflecting legitimate loans, unfairly creating 3 approximately $1,000,000 in purportedly secured claims.

4 b. Hatching a scheme to acquire the Debtor's assets for their own benefit, at the 5 expense of the Debtor and its creditors. In this regard, the Officers created an 6 "Information Memorandum" wherein the Officers acknowledge that the 7 bankruptcy filing was a "direct result of their desire to shed ACP's contract,
8 and that "the client pipeline could be targeted once the Company exits
9 bankruptcy proceedings." As the Officers stated, "What former Ice
10 Executives are doing is to form a NewCo asap," and "[i]f NewCo is the 11 winner [of the chapter 7 sale process], then NewCo commences operations as 12 a going concern."

13 c. Allowing for the scheduling of questionable claims, including their own and 14 by various other insiders. Some of these claims appear to be disguised equity 15 contributions subject to recharacterization and subordination, and

16 d. Circumventing the Trustee and attempting to engage in their own efforts to 17 market the Debtor's assets, despite the fact that they had no power to do so 18 and their efforts violated the automatic stay.

19 47. In turn, the Directors had a fiduciary duty of care and loyalty to ensure that the 20 Officers were conducting Ice Energy's business in conformity with proper corporate governance and 21 formalities (which they were not as identified above) and to ensure against self-dealing transactions,
22 such as the last minute "loans" by insiders, which were in fact equity.

23 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

24 Breach of Fiduciary Duty

25 (Against the Officers and Directors)

26 48. Plaintiff realleges the allegations contained in each preceding paragraph of the 27 Complaint as though set forth fully herein.

1 49. Pursuant to their positions, the Officers owed Ice Energy fiduciary duties. Among
2 these duties was a duty of care to act with minimal competency to ensure that Ice Energy was a
3 properly run entity under the law and a duty of loyalty to avoid placing their own interest ahead of 4 those of the Debtor and its creditors. In this regard, the Defendants had a duty, among other things:

- 5 a. To conduct due diligence for important hires and contracts;
- 6 b. To ensure that Ice Energy had a well-functioning and full set of corporate 7 officers at all times, including a Chief Executive Officer;
- 8 c. To ensure that its Officers were not exceeding their authority;
- 9 d. To provide due consideration and deliberation of material actions taken on 10 behalf of Ice Energy to ensure the Directors were exercising their best 11 business judgment (or any business judgment); and
- 12 e. To avoid self-dealing and taking actions for their benefit or the benefits of 13 others to the detriment of the Debtor.

14 50. Despite the duty of care and loyalty that the Officers owed the corporation, the 15 Officers breached these duties, as outlined supra.

16 51. These failures were of such a basic nature that they are not excused by any legal 17 doctrine, including but not limited to the business judgment rule. The breaches of loyalty are also 18 obvious by, among other things, the disguised equity infusions and other acts of self-dealing 19 discussed above.

20 52. In turn, the Directors had a fiduciary duty of care and loyalty to oversee the Debtor
21 and ensure that the Debtor was following corporate formalities and practicing good corporate
22 governance and, further, to ensure against the acts of the Officers and certain Directors described 23 herein.

24 53. As a direct and proximate result of the Officers' and Directors' breaches of the 25 fiduciary duty of care and loyalty, Ice Energy found itself on increasingly precarious financial 26 footing. These breaches of the fiduciary duty of care and loyalty were the underlying, direct, and 27 proximate cause of damage caused to the Debtor's estate, in an amount according to proof at trial.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Aiding and Abetting Breach of Fiduciary Duty

(Against Draper, Carroll, Kelly, Zezza, Christians, Collins, and Stewart)

54. Plaintiff realleges the allegations contained in each preceding paragraph of the Complaint as though set forth fully herein.

55. Additionally and alternatively, Defendants Draper, Carroll, Kelly, Zizza, Christians, Collins, and Stewart, as Officers, Directors, and insiders of the Debtor, aided and abetted the breaches of fiduciary duty committed by Defendants Leff and Childress, as identified above.

56. On information and belief, Defendants Draper, Carroll, Kelly, Zizza, Christians, Collins, and Stewart knowingly participated and substantially assisted in the breaches of fiduciary duty committed by Leff and Childress, including the causing of the Debtors' failure to take advantage, without justification, of offered funding that would have prevented the bankruptcy filing and preserved assets of the Debtor's estate.

57. Defendants' concerted actions were the underlying, direct, and proximate cause of damage caused to the Debtor's estate, in an amount according to proof at trial.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Declaratory Relief

(Against Heatley, Draper, Zezza, Minakami, and Voyager)

58. Plaintiff realleges the allegations contained in each preceding paragraph of the Complaint as though set forth fully herein.

59. A dispute now exists regarding the purported loans made to the Debtor on the eve of the bankruptcy.

60. On information and belief, these were in fact equity infusions by equity holders disguised as loans.

61. Among other things, the Debtor discussed seeking an equity infusion from its equity holders and insiders, not seeking a loan.

62. Additionally, the Debtor was offered a loan from the Lender, and there is no evidence that the Defendants conducted any due diligence to determine whether the loan offered by the Lender was more or less favorable than the terms provided by the insiders.

63. Additionally, the loans were made on the eve of bankruptcy, which rendered them perverse preferences.

64. Finally, any dates for repayments, interest rates, or maturity dates were necessarily illusory given that the Debtor knew that it was in the process of filing for bankruptcy protection.

65. Plaintiff seeks a declaration that the “loans” in 2019 were in fact equity infusions, which should be re-characterized as such.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Equitable Subordination

(Against Defendants Collins, Zizza, Heatley, Carroll, Draper, Minakami and Voyager)

[11 U.S.C. § 510(c)(1)]

66. Plaintiff realleges the allegations contained in each preceding paragraph of the Complaint as though set forth fully herein.

67. In the event that claims 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 68 and/or 73 (the "Claims"), by which Collins, Zizza, Heatley, Carroll, and Draper, Minakami and Voyager, respectively, assert claims against this estate are deemed allowed in any amount, the Trustee seeks equitable subordination of such claim(s) pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §510(c).

68. These Defendants have engaged in or are otherwise connected to significant inequitable conduct as detailed in this Complaint, including that their purported “claims” are merely alleged deficiencies in capital accounts, as these claims arise from the purported “loans” that the Trustee hereby seeks, among other things, to be re-characterized as equity rather than debt.

69. Equitable subordination of the Claims is consistent with the provisions and purposes of the Bankruptcy Code because it is not fair or equitable for Defendants to be paid anything through this estate when their own or associated wrongful conduct caused the demise of the Debtor in the first place, resulting in damages, including millions of dollars in claims asserted in this case, including the Ice Bear's Claim.

70. By reason of the foregoing, the Claims, if allowed at all, should be subordinated for purposes of distribution, pursuant to Section 510(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, to general non-priority unsecured claims.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Claim Disallowance

(Against Collins, Zizza, Heatley, Carroll, Draper, Minakami and Voyager)

[11 U.S.C. § 502]

71. Plaintiff realleges the allegations contained in each preceding paragraph of the Complaint as though set forth fully herein.

72. As of the filing of this Complaint, Collins, Zezza, Heatley, Carroll, Draper, Minakami, LLC, and Voyager have filed claims against the Debtor's estate, previously defined as the Claims. Pursuant to Section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Trustee objects to such Claims and such Claims must be disallowed until such time as Defendants make the estate whole for the damages they caused to the estate, plus interest thereon and costs.

73. To the extent any other Defendant later files a claim against the Debtor's estate, the Trustee reserves objection rights under Section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code.
